NOVEMBER

(contributed by LARRY BEYMER)

"And now it is November

*And now the sun leans farther to the south
Shining with a glassy, heatless light.
And almost all the trees are bare of limb and stem.
The mist of dawn is high and still like a frozen blanket
Or a suspended curtain
And the smoke of morning fires curls from the chimney tops
To rise straight, and lies in the motionless air.
And the bark of a dog a mile away comes sharp and crisp and exciting.
And little crystals that might have been ice
Glisten on the surface of the water pitcher.
The fogged windows of the warm breakfast kitchen makes that room cozy and isolated and friendly;
And the water boiling for the morning eggs is friendly,
And the perculator is friendly,
And the smell of toasting bread is friendly,
And the murmuring voices of people rising from their beds in the upper reaches are friendly.*

For now it is November

And in the middle of the day the morning dew still clings to the brown, dead rumpled grass

*And the underside of a fallen leaf is still wet in the heatless sun.
The caw of a crow is raucus and lonesome in the middle of the day
And the spice of crycanthemums and apples and burning leaves is in the air.
Downtown the traffic is brisk and sheerful and purposeful,
But out on the ocean edge where Seacliff is
There is no movement at all*

*Except perhaps a bundled child peering through a picket fence
Or a large bird coasting by on dejected wing.*

*It is more than the quiet of a dignified street in a good neighborhood;
It is the quiet of recumbent nature*

Resting, gathering her strength for winter's bluster.

For now it is November

And in the evening of November's day

The porch lights make luminous puddles in the early dark

And any crispness that the daylight had

Now melts away into a cold, soggy blanket of night.

And the living room glows and is alive with movement

And the hearth fire snaps and sizzles over a green log.

Here it is that human beings gather for warmth and friendliness and cheerfulness and companionship.

Laughter and chatter and pleasantness within

Barricaded against the damp, gloomy, prowling restlessness without.

For now it is November

And white-tusked, shaggy winter only waits to be upon us."

TRADING POST

Free notices for IRC members, concerning tape and related items to sell, buy, trade, etc.

Coleen Marvin, D-13, wants new people to tape with. She will answer all tapes.

Ernest Greene, S-8, would like to thank all of his IRC customers, and regretfully announces that his C-60 cassettes (in lots of 25) must be increased from $1.35 to $1.45. The tapes are AGFA Super Ferro Dynamic and are available in smaller lots for $1.75 each. All prices are subject to change and are quoted at discount prices to IRC members only.

Nick Burkowski, D-62, wants to "Beg, Borrow, Use, Lend, Loan, Steal, Exchange" albums or tapes by Gene Luis, guitarist. He states that "your terms are my terms."

Ed Hall, D-1, has for sale two mono cassette tape recorders neatly packaged with power supply and transmitting unit. Separate inputs and outputs for use through your amplifier. Believed to be supplemental transmitting unit for low wattage FM within a building; from a school inter classroom communication system. Mike and phone jack miniature other than RCA. In working order through your amplifier. 110 volts. Sell for $15.00 postpaid within the 50 states.

Peter Faulkner, S-17, is a big baseball fan and would like to talk about the game and exchange recordings of some historic games. He is particularly interested in the World Series but would like to trade tapes with people who are in better listening range of games to help him weather the long, cold British Columbia Canadian winter.

James L. Baugh, D-20, would like to hear from people on video cassettes. He has a VHS recorder and color camera; he is also interested in starting a video round robin. Anyone interested??? Write or tape.

Lee Book, S-11, wants Joni James recordings of the early 1950s — albums and 45s. He will send blank cassettes to anyone having these and is willing to copy them for him.

Lewis Crispell, D-20, is interested in any recordings of Slim Whitman, Vernon Dalhart, Vaughn Monroe, Jim Ed Brown, and Johnny Cash. He will supply the tape and postage.

I once threatened to type quiz answers up-side-down, and Dear Dad thought I was nuts; I decided to type them sideways, I wonder what he'll think now?

ANSWERS

1-E; 2-K; 3-B(J);
4-N; 5-G; 6-D; 7-O;
8-F; 9-H; 10-C;
11-I; 12-J(B); 13-L;
14-M; 15-A.

SWITCH MUTUAL FUND INVESTMENT CLUB

Robert Thurston has informed me that a mistake has been made in the heading last month of the article dealing with mutual funds. I apologize for any inconvenience this might have caused anyone. If you are interested in Mutual Fund Investing, contact Robert Thurston at Wesley Manor, G-5, Jacksonville, FL 32223.

SILENT MIKE

JOANIE CURRENCE, IRC #2012, died this past month. She had resided in Oldenburg, Indiana. Although an IRC member less than a year, Joanie was familiar with IRC for quite some time, for her two brothers are members; Paul Ratterman, D-42, and Charles Ratterman, D-51. The sympathy of the club is extended to Paul and Charles, as well as all other members of her family.
